Frequently Asked Questions

We invite you to read through these frequently asked questions, prior to registering.

Can I enter a selection at a higher level than declared?

A: All selections must be at the competitor's current level of study, unless otherwise specified. Current level of study must be shown on the registration form. Competitors may enter only one class at a higher level than declared. If no Conservatory examination has been taken in the year prior to the Festival, the teacher must assign a level, based on their estimation to existing Conservatory grades.

Can I use a digital piano or electronic keyboard?

A: Yes. Pianos may be either acoustic or digital. This applies to both accompanists and competitors.

Virtual Performance Guidelines:

Do I have to introduce my pieces verbally, or are there other options?

A: There are three options

- 1) Announce your name, level of competition and what pieces you will be performing verbally.
- 2) Digitally insert this information at the beginning of your video submission either graphically or by holding up a typed sheet of paper -see Sample of Title Card below.
- 3) Both – verbally and written.

The choice is yours - whatever works best for you.

It should be noted that these introductions do not count towards the actual performance time.

Sample of Title Card

Introduction / Title Card (to be presented at the beginning of the video recording)

Name: Barbra Streisand
Class Name: Musical Theatre – Up-Tempo Contemporary Solo (1974 – Present)
Class Level: Elementary (Ages 11-12)
Class Code: MTCONTUP – 12
Title: My Favourite Things, The Sound of Music
Composer: R. Rodgers and O. Hammerstein

Virtual Performance Guidelines:

Do you require a video recording of my collaborating pianist?

A: No. This is not required. If you would like to acknowledge your accompanist when you are introducing yourself and your pieces, it would be a nice and professional gesture.

For example:

*“My name is John Smith, and I will be performing... [insert name of piece].
I would like to thank my accompanist...[insert name of accompanist] “*

My repertoire requires accompaniment – is it possible to send a video of my pieces recorded without accompaniment?

A: No. Accompaniment is required for this competition unless the piece is written specifically without it.

What are accompaniment options?

- 1) Hire a collaborative pianist to record the accompaniment and have them send a digital copy to you.
- 2) In many cases, for instruments other than Piano, RCM includes a CD of accompaniments for practice purposes. These are permitted.
- 3) Download an accompaniment track from the internet.
- 4) If the accompanist lives in the same residence as the competitor, this is also permitted.

If physical distancing is still mandatory as of the date you record your video, then live accompaniment can only be with a family member or someone who lives in your residence or family cohort or with a recorded accompaniment. Pre-recorded back-tracks are acceptable for this competition- i.e., the ones provided by RCM for practice purposes. Entrants are required to follow the current government guidelines for their area.

I am entering multiple classes, do all the pieces have to be recorded in one continuous take?

A: No. Record each class separately. Each class must have its own YouTube link. Check and write down the video submission due date for your class – they differ depending on the discipline you are entering.

If I am playing a multi-movement piece as one of my selections, can each movement be recorded separately?

A: No. A multi-movement piece is still one piece. A multi-movement piece needs to be recorded continuously -record it as you would perform it at a live festival.

Can video submissions be sent by email?

A: No. All submissions must be via YouTube. The YouTube link of your performance must be included on your registration form. You will need to register for a free YouTube account.
